

Enrol to vote for federal elections from outside Australia

AEC

Australian Electoral Commission

Who can use this form?

You can use this form to enrol to vote if you are currently living outside Australia and:

- you are not currently enrolled, and
- you are an Australian citizen, or a British subject who was enrolled on 25 January 1984, and
- you are 18 years or older, and
- you departed Australia within the last three years and intend to return within six years of your date of departure from Australia.

Note: To check whether you are currently enrolled visit www.aec.gov.au. If you are already enrolled you should complete the 'Registration as an overseas elector' form available from the website.

Is it compulsory to enrol and vote?

No, but if you are enrolled and don't either vote or apply for a postal vote, your enrolment as an overseas elector may be cancelled.

In which division can you enrol?

You must enrol for the address where:

- A you were last eligible to be enrolled
- B one of your next of kin is currently enrolled
- C you were born, if neither of the above apply, or
- D you have the closest connection if none of the above apply.

Within three weeks of receiving your enrolment form the AEC will confirm your enrolment. We may seek further information from you and confirm your enrolment using any of the contact details you provide.

What happens when your circumstances change?

By enrolling as an overseas elector, your name will be retained on the roll for a period of six years while you are away.

If, after leaving Australia, you find that you will be away for more than six years, you can apply in writing to the Divisional Returning Officer at info@aec.gov.au to have your overseas enrolment extended by one year at a time. You must do this in the three months before your registration is due to expire.

Overseas voting arrangements for federal elections

There are three options for voting from overseas:

Option 1 — You can register as a general postal voter at Question 12 for federal elections and referendums. You will be sent ballot papers as soon as practicable after the declaration of nominations.

Option 2 — You can vote in person on or before polling day, at an Australian overseas mission which provides full consular services. During an election period a full list of overseas voting locations is available at www.aec.gov.au

Option 3 — If you do not register as a general postal voter and you cannot vote in person, you may apply for a postal vote. To do so, contact an Australian overseas mission, any AEC office in Australia or download an 'Application for a postal vote' from the AEC website at www.aec.gov.au. Arranging a postal vote is your responsibility.

Note: Provisions for voting as an overseas elector for state and territory elections can vary and you can obtain relevant information from the relevant state or territory authority.

Who has access to your enrolment information?

The Commonwealth of Australia

The Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) is authorised under the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 (CEA) to collect and verify the information you have been asked to complete on this form. The information provided will assist the AEC to maintain electoral rolls.

The AEC may disclose electoral information to persons or organisations in accordance with the CEA. This may include:

- access to the publicly available electoral roll (containing names and addresses) which may be inspected at electoral offices
- state and territory electoral authorities
- Members of Parliament, Senators, registered political parties, and candidates for the House of Representatives
- approved medical research and public health screening programs
- any agencies, persons or organisations prescribed in the Electoral and Referendum Regulation 2016.
