Agency Purpose

The Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) is an independent statutory authority established by the Australian Government to maintain an impartial and independent electoral system for eligible voters through active electoral roll management, efficient delivery of polling services, and targeted education and public awareness programs.

The AEC's values and commitments

The AEC values and commitments are an essential component of our operating environment and frame how AEC staff work. The AEC's focus is on electoral integrity through the values of quality, agility and professionalism.

Locations

The AEC is geographically diverse with a National Office in Canberra, a State Office in each state capital and a Northern Territory Office in Darwin. Each state is divided into electoral divisions (there are 150 across Australia), which may alter in accordance with changes to the distribution of electoral boundaries.

Work Environment

The Orange office services the division of Calare. The staffing structure consists of 1x APS6, 1x APS3 and 1 part time (0.5) APS2. Office Staffing is supplemented by temporary employees as required and is managed remotely by an Operations Manager from the NSW State Office located in Sydney.

When an election is announced, the staffing rapidly expands to hundreds with polling officials, temporary office staff and post polling staff – these staff will often only work for the AEC every 2-3 years and require intensive training to undertake their role. The workload also increases substantially from managing day to day business as usual activities to managing high risk and large scale projects with increased pressure, media, public scrutiny, short timeframes, and multiple logistical activities that are dependent on each other.

The AEC is committed to the APS values of being impartial, committed to service, accountable, respectful and ethical.
