I strongly disagree with the Labour Party's proposition regarding moving Flagstaff Hill, Aberfoyle Park and Happy Valley into a southern electorate. It is not their prerogative to tell me my opinion. Apparently, their argument that it is not viable, necessary or preferable to keep these suburbs in Boothby. I would wish to see and analyse the science behind their claims, otherwise these are just words. I strongly propose that this is a shallow and self-serving position to capture an unwilling population group who will then not be represented by their chosen demographic sector. Our demography, geography, economic structure and interests vary widely from the southern sector to which Labour proposes that we be moved. I reject their proposition out of hand and request that the AEC do so too. Our suburbs will not receive adequate or appropriate representation if this move goes ahead. I believe that this position is fundamental to the AEC's decision.

Thank you for your time. Brian Whinfield
