I support the proposal to move and rename Corangamite but would like to suggest an alternative to Cox as the new name. I would prefer a name that - like Corangamite - reflects the Aboriginal heritage of the area. Best of all would be the name of a female Indigenous leader from the region but sadly I am unaware of one. You might have access to someone better educated than me in Aboriginal history, if not may I suggest using the name of one of the local Aboriginal tribes, which I think are Wathawurrung, Gulidjan or Gadubanud?
