We write in support of the proposed electoral division of the current seat of McMillan, and the change of name to Monash. This change of name is well and truly overdue. As you would be aware, the name McMillan is associated with the brutal treatment and massacre of the Aboriginal people in earlier times, and understandably has caused distress to the local Koorie Community as well as many others.

Notwithstanding the above, if the Koorie Community has a suggestion for a name that reflects their culture, we would be supportive of that.

Peter and Hedy Kirkbride.
