

Objection 91

Trevor Mildenhall

1 page

Redistribution and renaming of Corangimite

I write in support of the new boundaries as proposed as they provide a more cohesive demographic of people with similar issues, association with the regional centre and similar lifestyles.

The movement of the more rural parts of the electorate to a more rural seat makes sense for a more cohesive and inclusive set of issues and concerns.

I agree with the principle of naming more electorates after prominent women. We can probably have a bit of fun with Cox.

Trevor Mildenhall