In the NSW Southern Highlands we are served by the Electorates of Whitlam & Hume, but they have irregular boundaries that do not make for logical representation.

Eg Whitlam covers the coast and up the [mostly unpopulated] escarpment to include Moss Vale, Bowral and Mittagong. Hume wraps around the rest. Neither particularly align with State electoral Boundaries.

The boundaries could be made more efficient if the Escarpment was the boundary - ie Whitlam was all on the coast.
