I object to this proposal. It leaves the south eastern corner of the electorate sitting out like a peninsular but still part of Kooyong. We are a separate and distinct area from Kooyong and I do not believe we should be joined with an electorate the majority of which extends far east from here. Furthermore, we in Armadale have nothing in common with that area, the areas are separate and distinct. The existing boundary for Higgins is basically correct and links the relevant areas together. The proposal would lead to a disjointed electorate. I urge this proposal be reconsidered.
