Following up my previous response to the labor proposal their maps and suggestions are probably the most obvious attempt at trying to pass off gerrymandering as a legitimate suggestion packing conservative rural votes all in seats like wide bay, Maranoa and wright while making advantageous new seats like Blair, Fisher, Fairfax, Longman, Dickson and Forde in which they would gain an obvious advantage. Whilst I agree somerset should be removed from Blair the shape of maranoa is laughable and is probably the best attempt since Elbridge Gerry and his salamander shaped electorate along with their attempts in Wide Bay and Wright. The obvious cracking of conservative voters from marginal seats and packing them into safe conservative ones. Their division of Wright looks like a dog without legs and Wide Bay a crab claw that crosses from South Burnett, Gympie and Noosa all the way across the Sunshine Coast and down into Moreton Bay is laughable. Maranoa looks like a giant reaching down from the beanstalk to grab the division of Wright. Though their suggestion was predictable as I knew they would try and do this 18 months ago before the original redistribution was deferred. Somersets only natural places are Blair, Dickson or Longman and those 3 options dont work for Labor since it would hurt their chances in those seats.
